

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

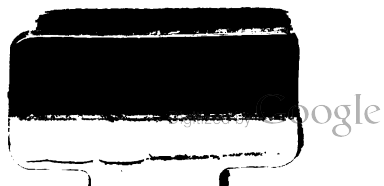

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Preface.

PROBABLY no person is aware of the difficulties and perplexities of collecting and arranging the genealogy of a large family, but those who have tried it. Many families keep no records, many others have but a few fragments, while in other cases we find a list of names but no dates, and in some few instances dates of birth are purposely withheld. Added to this is the fact that but few men are found who take much interest in genealogical researches, unless the possession of some great estate is in prospect, and hence many inquiries are made, and many letters written, which are never answered.

The author of the work here presented to the members of the Greenleaf Family has experienced all these difficulties in the prosecution of his work ; still, while he has to regret many imperfections, he is surprised and gratified that he has been enabled to collect so great an amount of reliable information respecting the several branches of a family, scattered over the country for the space of more than two hundred years.

It will no doubt be seen by those who look critically, that many families are but partially sketched ; some errors both in fact and date may be detected ; and omissions may be found. Still, as a whole, the work may be relied on as substantially correct. No pains have been spared to make it so. Perfect accuracy in a work like this can hardly be expected. An apology should perhaps be made to those who received a specimen-sheet in August last, and subscribed in consequence. It was then proposed to arrange the names on fourteen large charts, adding the notes in a pamphlet. But it was soon found that this plan involved an expense which the subscription would not meet. It therefore became necessary either to change the plan or abandon the publication, as it could not be expected that any would purchase the book except members of the family. The change was accordingly made, and instead of fourteen large charts, as first proposed, the names are arranged on about forty charts of a smaller size, making the whole into a convenient and portable octavo volume. The change is believed to be a decided improvement.

There has been an unavoidable delay in the publication, owing to the fact that at one of the severe fires in New York, during the past winter, nearly one half of the copy, then in the printer's hands, and partly in type, was entirely destroyed, and the loss has been with difficulty supplied ; and should any confusion appear in the arrangement, it may be attributed to this.

The author will thankfully receive any corrections which can be made, and any additional information which may be given, intending to preserve and record every thing of the kind for the benefit of posterity, should it ever be needed.

JONATHAN GREENLEAF.

NOTES.

CHART No. I.—NOTE 1. From all that can be gathered, it is believed that the ancestors of the Greenleaf family were Huguenots, who left France on account of their religious principles, sometime in the course of the sixteenth century, and settled in England. The name was, probably, translated from the French Fuillevert. Edmund Greenleaf, who is named in the Chart as the common ancestor, was born in the parish of Brixham, and county of Devonshire, near Torbay, in England, about the year 1600. He married Sarah Dole, and had several children born in England. In the year 1635 he came to America with his family, and settled in Newbury, Mass. He lived near "Old Town Bridge," where for some years he kept a tavern. He was by trade a silk-dyer. About the year 1650 he removed to Boston, where he buried his wife, and afterwards married a Widow Hill, who had several children by a former husband. This marriage was rather an unhappy one. In the early part of 1671, Mr. Greenleaf died. His will, a very curious document, written, as is supposed, by himself, was proved February 12, 1671, and is recorded in the Probate Records in Boston, in the volume for 1669 to 1674, page 112. The following is a copy, the orthography being corrected:—
"In the name of God, amen. The two-and-twentieth day of December, sixteen hundred sixty-eight, I, Edmund Greenleaf, being mindful of my own mortality and certainty of death, and uncertainty of the same, and being desirous to settle things in order, being now in good health and perfect memory, do make, appoint and ordain this to be my last will and testament, in manner and form following: that is to say—first, and principally, I give and bequeath my soul into the hands of my blessed Redeemer, the Lord Jesus, who hath died and gave himself for me, and his blood cleanseth from all sin, and through his righteousness I do only look for justification and salvation; and do commit my mortal body, after this life is ended, into the dust from whence it was taken, there to be preserved by the power and faithfulness of my Redeemer, Jesus Christ, until the resurrection of the just, and then to be raised up by the same power to immortality and life, where I shall see him as he is, and shall ever be with him; and in this faith and hope I desire, through his grace and assistance, to live and die, and at last to be found of him in peace.

“Nextly, my will is, being according to God’s will revealed in his word, that we must pay what we owe and live of the rest, unto whose rule the sons of men ought to frame their wills and actions; therefore, my mind and will is, that my debts shall be truly and justly paid to every man to whom I shall be indebted, by my executors hereafter named.

“And first I do revoke, renounce, frustrate and make void all wills by me formerly made; and I declare and appoint this to be my last will and testament.

“Imprimis—I give unto my son Stephen Greenleaf, and to my daughter Browne, widow, and to my daughter Coffin, to each of them twenty shillings apiece. Item—I give unto my grandchild Elizabeth Hilton, ten pounds. Item—I give unto my grandchild Enoch Greenleaf, five pounds.

“Item—I give unto my grandchild Sarah Winslow, five pounds, if her father pay me the four pounds he oweth me.

“Item—I give unto my eldest son’s son, James Greenleaf, twenty shillings; and after my funeral expenses, debts and legacies are discharged, I give and bequeath the rest of my estate unto my son Stephen Greenleaf, and to my daughter Elizabeth Browne, and to my daughter Judith Coffin, equally to be divided amongst them and their children. And further, I desire and appoint my son Stephen Greenleaf and Tristram Coffin the executors of this my will, to see it executed and affirmed as near as they can; and I further entreat my cousin Thomas Moon, mariner, to see to the performance of this my will.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this twenty-fifth day of December, 1668.

"EDMUND GREENLEAF." L. S.

"Signed, sealed, published, and declared to be my last will in the presence of us,
"George Ruggell,"
"John Furniside."

The inventory of Mr. Greenleaf's estate, which was appended to the will, amounted to £131 5s. 9d.

The following paper is also recorded in the Probate Records, appended to the will, as, probably, assigning the reason why the name of his second wife, who appears to have outlived him, was not mentioned :

"When I married my wife, I kept her grandchild, as I best remember, three years to schooling, diet and apparel; and William Hill, her son, had a bond of six pounds a year, whereof I received no more than a barrel of pork of £3 0 0 of that £6 0 0 a year he was to pay me, and sent to her son Ignatius Hill, to the Barbadoes, in mackerel, oider, and bread and pease, as much as come to twenty pounds, and never received one penny of it. His aunt gave to the three brothers £50 apiece—I know not whether they received it or no; but I have not received any part of it.

"Witness my hand, EDMUND GREENLEAF."

"Besides, when I married my wife, she brought me a silver bowl, a silver porringer, and a silver spoon. She lent or gave them to her son, James Hill, without my consent."

The number of children born to Edmund Greenleaf is not certainly known at this day. He mentions in his will three, viz.: Stephen, Elizabeth and Judith. These, probably, were all who survived their father. But he mentions in his will four grandchildren, the heirs, probably, of four children deceased, viz.: Elizabeth Hilton, Enoch Greenleaf, Sarah Winslow, and James Greenleaf, whom he calls his "eldest son's son." But Stephen Greenleaf had no son named either Enoch or James, and hence he must have had an older brother, and perhaps two, but we know nothing further of them.

NOTE 2.—Judith Greenleaf was the eldest daughter of Edmund Greenleaf of whom we have any account. She was born in England about the year 1628, and in 1644, at the age of sixteen, was married to Henry Somerby, of Newbury, a tailor, by whom she had four children. Mr. Somerby died in 1652, and on March 2, in the following year, Mrs. Somerby married Tristram Coffin, Jr., who had been an apprentice to her first husband. By this marriage she had eleven children, who are the ancestors of the Coffins in New England.

Mrs. Coffin died at Newbury, December 15, 1705.

NOTE 3.—Stephen Greenleaf was the only son of Edmund, the common ancestor, of whom we have any account. He was born in England, in 1630, and at the age of five years came to America with his father. He resided in Newbury until his death. In 1651 he married Elizabeth Coffin, the daughter of Tristram Coffin, Sen., by whom he had ten children. His wife died November 19, 1678, and in March following he married Mrs. Esther Swett. He was a captain of militia, and as such went to Cape Breton, in the Indian wars, and was there wrecked in a vessel and drowned, in company with nine others, on December 1, 1690, at the age of sixty years. His second wife outlived him, dying in Newbury, January 16, 1718, aged 89. Mr. Greenleaf was a religious man, a member of the First Congregational Church in Newbury, to which he was admitted December 6, 1674.

NOTE 4.—Elizabeth Greenleaf was the daughter of Edmund Greenleaf, and sister of Stephen, before named. In 1642 she married Giles Badger, and had one son, John, born June 30, 1643. This John was twice married; by his second wife, Hannah Swett, he had a son, Nathaniel, who removed to Norwich, Conn., and is the ancestor of Rev. Milton Badger, D.D., Cor. Sec. of the Am. Home Miss. Soc. Giles Badger died July 10, 1647, and on February 16, 1648, his widow was married to Richard Browne, by whom she had five children, and was again left a widow in 1661, and as such is mentioned in her father's will as his "daughter Browne, widow." She resided in Newbury.

NOTE 5.—Stephen Greenleaf was the eldest son of Stephen, Sen., and Elizabeth Coffin, his wife. He was born in Newbury, August 15, 1652. He was a man very famous in his day, and is usually distinguished in the records of Newbury as "Capt. Stephen." He was much distinguished in the Indian wars, and is mentioned in "Mather's Magnalia," as commanding a company in the celebrated battle with the French and Indians at Wells, in Maine, in 1690. For several years he was the representative of Newbury in the General Court, and in 1689 was the Agent of the State to treat with the Indians at Pen-nicook. On October 23, 1676, he was married to Elizabeth Gerrish, the daughter of Capt. William Gerrish, by whom he had ten children. He died at Newbury, September 30, 1743, at the advanced age of ninety-one years. Of his ten children, two were daughters and eight were sons. His eldest child, Elizabeth, married Henry Clark, and the other daughter, Sarah, married a Mr. Kent. Both resided in Newbury. Of the sons, a first Stephen and William died in infancy. Of the three youngest, John, Benjamin and Moses, nothing is now known. Of the remaining three, viz.: Daniel, Joseph and a second Stephen, see the three following notes.

NOTE 6.—Rev. Daniel Greenleaf was the eldest son of Capt. Stephen Greenleaf, and was born in Newbury, February 10, 1680. He was graduated at Harvard College, in 1699, and for about six years practised medicine in Cambridge, where he married Elizabeth Gooking, in 1701, by whom he had thirteen children. About the year 1706 he commenced preaching, and in 1708 was ordained pastor of the Congregational church in Yarmouth, Mass., where he remained nearly twenty years. Some difficulties then arising, he resigned his charge in 1727, and removed to Boston, and opened an apothecary's shop in what is now Washington street, between Court street and Cornhill, very near what is now Crocker & Brewster's bookstore. Here he resided until his death, which took place suddenly in 1763, at the age of eighty-three years. He was buried near the "stone chapel," in Tremont street. For his descendants, see Charts from IV. to XX. inclusive, and Notes 7 and 8, and from 26 to 80.

NOTE 7.—Joseph Greenleaf, the second son of Stephen, Jun., who lived to marry, was born April 12, 1686. (See Chart II.) He resided in Newbury, where he married Thomasine —, by whom he had seven children. (See Chart XXI.) Of the three eldest nothing is known. Joseph, Jun., the second son, resided in Newbury. Stephen, the third son, married Mary Davis, of Gloucester, Mass., where he resided, and where some of his descendants are still living. Mayo, the youngest son of Joseph, Sen., resided in Newbury. He had three children. (See Chart XXII. ;) of two of these nothing is known. His second son, Abel, married Catharine —, and had seven children. (See Chart XXII.)

Joseph Greenleaf, Jun., the second son of Joseph, Sen., married Mary —. He resided in Newbury, and had four sons and one daughter. (See Chart XXI.) Of the daughter and the second son, Thomas, nothing is known. The third son, Benjamin, married Thomasine Davis, and resided in Gloucester, Mass. He had two children—perhaps more. The youngest son was Stephen. He married Anna Worthington, and had three sons and one daughter. (See Chart XXII.) Nothing is known of his children except John, the eldest, who was born about 1780. He married Ann Evans, and resided in Lancaster county, Penn. He had nine children, six sons and three daughters, all born in Lancaster county, four of whom have deceased. For those living now, (1854,) see Chart XXII. Nothing definite is known of these except the eldest son, John, who married Hannah Chamberlain, Jan. 10, 1837, and had a son born in 1838, and a daughter born in 1842. He resides in Columbus, Ohio. Joseph Greenleaf, 3d, was the eldest son of Joseph, Jun. He married Mercy ———, and had three children. (See Chart XXI.) He resided in Newbury.

NOTE 8.—Stephen Greenleaf, the son of "Capt. Stephen," and brother of the foregoing, was born at Newbury, Oct. 21, 1690. He married Mary Mackcres, about the year 1712, and resided for a time in Newbury, where he had four sons, Enoch, Richard, Samuel and Ebenezer. About the year 1720, he removed to Woolwich, in the State of Maine, where he had other children. He died at Woolwich in 1771. His son Samuel married Hephzibah Preble, of York, Me., and they had seven children. He died at Westport, Me., in 1792. His eldest son was Stephen, who was born in 1747, and married Mary Knight of Scarborough, Me., by whom he had eleven children. Stephen resided in Westport, where he died in 1813. Of the four eldest children of Stephen, the son of Samuel, little is known. The eldest was Nathaniel, born May, 1770, and married Patience Sheldon in 1796. The second was Sarah, born 1772, married John Dunton in 1793. The third was Mary, born 1774, and married to Thomas Parsons. The fourth was Stephen, born 1775, who married widow Mary Knight in 1819, and died in 1835. Westbrook was the fifth child, born in 1778, and is now living (1854) at Westport, Lincoln county, Maine. He has been twice married, first to Mary Dunton, in 1800, and second to Ruth B. Harriman, in 1828. He has ten children. (See Chart XXIV.) Of these, Abigail married Silas Lewis, in 1821; Mary married James McCarty, in 1825, and died in 1828; Westbrook, Jun., married Emeline Clifford in 1830; Austin married Eliza A. Tibbets in 1836; Mercy married David Shattuck in 1835; Daniel married Antoinette Clifford in 1845; and Eliza married Nathaniel Nelson in 1837. The most of these reside in Westport.—Olive Greenleaf, the daughter of Stephen, and sister of Westbrook, married Captain Jotham Parsons, of Brooklyn, N. Y., on September 11, 1808. Rev. E. G. Parsons, once of Freeport, Me., and now of Derry, N. H., and Rev. B. F. Parsons, once of Wisconsin, and now of Dover, N. H., are her sons, and the wife of Rev. S. H. Shepley is her daughter. Thankful Greenleaf, the youngest sister of Mrs. Parsons, married Thomas Hodgdon in 1811.

Ebenezer Greenleaf, the youngest child of Stephen, of Woolwich, was born in June, 1791, and resides at Westport. He married Abigail Hodgdon in April, 1816, and has had ten children. (See Chart XXIV.) Four of his daughters are married, viz.: Susan, to John McNear, in 1843; Sophia, to George Shaw, in 1844; Mary A., to Lewis Wright, in 1846; and Emeline P., to James R. Jewett.

Stephen Greenleaf, who, as stated above, removed from Newbury to Woolwich about the year 1720, with his family, had several children after that date, who settled in that part of Lincoln county, and several of their descendants, as it is confidently believed, are now living in the towns of Starks and Mercer, in Somerset county, Maine. John Greenleaf removed from Wiscasset, or that vicinity, to what is now the town of Starks, then but a wilderness, in the year 1778, being then but about 25 years of age. Here he lived, and died, about the year 1843, at the age of 90. Joseph, a brother to John, settled at Starks about the same time, and died there some years since. Ebenezer, another brother, came soon after, and died in Starks, about the year 1822. Daniel, a son of his, died there about 1851.

William Greenleaf, a cousin to John and Joseph, came from the county of Lincoln about the year 1810, and settled in Starks; and Joshua, a brother of his, settled in Mercer, earlier. All these had large families, and among them are many enterprising and business-like men, now residing in Starks and Mercer. The exact pedigree of these families has not been ascertained. William Greenleaf, Esq., of Squam Island, is also of this family.

NOTE 9.—John Greenleaf was the second son of Stephen Greenleaf, Sen., and Elizabeth Coffin his wife, who lived to marry, and was born at Newbury, June 21, 1662, and resided in Newbury until his death. He was twice married, first to Elizabeth Hills, and second to Mrs. Lydia Pierce, the widow of Benjamin Pierce, Esq., and sister of Major Charles Frost, of Kittery, Me. By his first marriage he had ten children, six sons and four daughters. He was admitted to the First Congregational Church in Newbury, with his first wife, on Jan. 31, 1696. Mr. Greenleaf died May 24, 1734, at the age of 72. His second wife survived him, dying May 13th, 1752, aged 78. He was buried near the north corner of the "Old town" meeting-house. The present house of worship occupying that site, probably covers the grave. See Notes from 9 to 16, and from 81 to 93.

NOTE 10.—The three eldest children of John Greenleaf, Sen., were daughters, viz.: Elizabeth, Jane and Judith. Judith died in infancy, and of Elizabeth and Jane nothing is known. He had another daughter, Martha, born in 1699, who married a Mr. Gage, of Newbury. For the descendants of John Greenleaf, Sen., in the line of his six sons, see Charts No. XXIV. to XXXVIII. inclusive.

NOTE 11.—Daniel Greenleaf, the eldest son of John, Sen., resided in Newbury. He followed the sea, and was drowned on Newbury bar in January or February, 1729. He married Mary Moody, and had buried three young children before his death, leaving four when he died: two sons, David and Jonathan, and two daughters—Elizabeth, who married Moses Pearson, of Byfield, and Sarah, who married Isaac Johnson. His wife had a daughter born a few months after his death, who died in infancy.

NOTE 12.—There were three John Greenleafs living in Newbury at the same time, viz.: John, Sen., the son of Stephen, Sen.; John, Jun., the son of Samuel and nephew of John, Sen., and John, 3d, the son of John, Sen., and they are thus distinguished in the Newbury records. John, Sen., is sometimes called "Quartermaster John." The descendants of John Greenleaf, Jun., may be seen on Charts No. XXX. to XXXIII., and those of John Greenleaf, 3d, on Chart No. XXVIII.

NOTE 13.—Parker Greenleaf, the son of John, Sen., resided in Newbury, and had two children, both daughters, and the family name is extinct in that line.

NOTE 14.—Samuel Greenleaf, the son of John, Sen., married Elizabeth Kingsbury; he resided in Newbury, and had two children, viz.: Margery, born Sept. 6, 1725; she married a Mr. Lunt, of Portsmouth, N. H., and was an eminently pious woman; and Samuel, born Sept. 8, 1727. He resided in Newbury, where he died, April 23, 1793, at the age of 66. He had eight children, seven of them being daughters. His only son, Samuel, died at sea, unmarried, and the family name is extinct in this line. Of his daughters, Anna, the eldest child, married Capt. Green Pearson, of Newbury; Sarah was deaf and dumb, but very intelligent. She died unmarried, Dec. 26, 1824. Margery married, first, Capt. Roberts, and second, P. Rousseau of Newburyport. Elizabeth married William Parsons of Boston. Mary married Mr. Sigourney of Boston. Jerusha married Rev. William Coombs, of Newburyport. The two unmarried sisters, familiarly known as "aunt Judy and aunt Betty," and the bachelor brother, known as "uncle Abel," made one family, who are well remembered in Newburyport. They died within a few years of each other, Judith in 1796, Abel in 1799, and Elizabeth in 1805.

Ebenezer, the eldest son of Benjamin Greenleaf, married Hannah Titcomb, and had five children. Two died single. Mrs. Jane Greenleaf, the wife Ebenezer Greenleaf, and daughter of Capt. Coombs, was a woman of remarkable piety, and widely known in the religious world. She outlived her husband nearly twenty years, dying at the age of 85, May 15, 1851. An interesting memoir of her life has been published, written by her daughter.

NOTE 16.—Stephen Greenleaf, the youngest child of John, Sen., married Eunice Wallis of Boston. He resided there, living in what is now Washington street, (then Newbury street,) a little south of the "Lamb Tavern," where he died Dec. 22, 1765, aged 61. His remains lie in the tomb of Mr. Wallis, near the north corner of Park Street Church. It is not certainly known that this family was related to Edmund Greenleaf, who came from England in 1635, and settled in Newbury ; yet in both families we find the singular name of Rooksby, a very fair inference that both families were of one original. (See Chart XXXIX. and Note 95.)

At an early age he commenced business on his own account, which he followed successfully for about forty years, and was then largely engaged as an underwriter, there being no public insurance offices in the country at that time. His house was in what is now Tremont street, fronting the Common, near where the Masonic Temple now stands, and his garden extended to West street. At the time of the American Revolution he was holding the office of Sheriff of the county of Suffolk, under the King. The county then comprehended what is now Suffolk and Norfolk counties, together with Hingham and Hull, in the present county of Plymouth. After Lexington battle, Boston was closely shut up, and Mr. Sheriff Greenleaf, being a Tory, remained there with the British troops, exercising his office only within the lines. His younger brother, William Greenleaf, who was a staunch Whig, was appointed Sheriff of Suffolk by the provincial Congress, then sitting at Watertown, exercising his office in the other parts of the county out of Boston. The British evacuated Boston in March, 1776, and a new Legislature was chosen in May following. In July of that year Independence was declared, the Sheriff, Mr. William Greenleaf, proclaiming it from the balcony of the Old State House in State street. During the war they went to England, where he died. Mrs. Howard returned to Boston, and lived with her father until his death. She had no children, and when she died she bequeathed a valuable collection of books to the "Boston Library," and a considerable amount of property to Trinity Church. Hannah, the youngest daughter, married John Apthorp, a merchant of Boston, and was lost with her husband, in a storm at sea, in the autumn of 1773, when going from New York to Charleston, S. C., on account of Mr. Apthorp's health.

Dr. Greenleaf was thrice married: first, to Priscilla Brown; second, to Ruth Walker; and third, to Ann Wroe. By his first marriage he had six children, by the second two, and by the third two. These all died in infancy, except the two last. Elizabeth, the youngest daughter, was born Nov. 15, 1765. She married her cousin, Daniel Greenleaf, who resided in Quincy, Mass., and died there, Jan. 6, 1839. Thomas, the youngest child of Dr. John Greenleaf, was born May 15, 1767. He was graduated at Harvard College in 1784, married Mary D. Price, and has a son, Ezekiel Price, living unmarried, and two married daughters. He resided in Quincy, where he died Jan. 4, 1854. Dr. Woods, of Andover.

NOTE 32.—Dr. Daniel Greenleaf, Jun., was the third child of Dr. Daniel Greenleaf, of Bolton. (See Note 26.) He studied medicine, and was surgeon of a regiment at the siege of Louisburg, in 1755, and was afterwards surgeon of a colony ship during the same war. He afterwards went to England, where, on May 5, 1763, he married Anna Burrett. Returning to America, he practised medicine in some part of Worcester county, Mass., until his death, which took place Jan. 18, 1777, at the age of 45. He left one son and two daughters.

He resided for some years in Boston ; was a man of considerable property, and at one time held the office of Town Treasurer. He afterwards became poor, and removed to Newburyport, where he died in June, 1785, at the age of sixty-four years. He married Sarah Lamson, and had one child only, viz. : Daniel.

Daniel Greenleaf, the only child of David, of Newburyport, was born there in 1753. He was at sea for some little time during the war of the Revolution, and was once a prisoner. When he was over thirty years of age he married Polly Bridges, and had six children. (See Chart XXV.)

About the year 1800, Mr. Greenleaf removed from Newburyport to the town of Rumford in Maine, where he died in 1839, at the age of eighty-six. His children reside in Oxford county, Maine, in or near Rumford. Two sons, William and Charles, are living unmarried now, (1854,) both over sixty years of age. Sarah, the eldest daughter, married Joseph Berry, and has deceased. Mary, the second daughter, is living, the wife of Stephen Ethridge ; and James B., the youngest son, married Sybil Goddard, and has nine children.

NOTE 82.—Hon. Jonathan Greenleaf was the sixth child and second son of Daniel Greenleaf, of Newbury, and brother of the foregoing. He was born in Newbury in July, 1723, and resided there all his life. His father was drowned when he was but little over five years of age, and his mother was left in very destitute circumstances, with a large family of children. At seven years of age he was apprenticed to Mr. Edward Presbury, and learnt the trade of a ship-carpenter. At the age of twenty-one he married Mary Presbury, the daughter of his master, with whom he lived more than sixty years. They had nine children. He carried on the business of shipbuilding in person for about twenty years, and after this carried it on more extensively, and accumulated a large estate. From about the year 1768 to 1792, he was much in public life, and the stirring scenes of the Revolution engaged his energies. For the whole of that time he sustained some public office. He was a member of the Continental Congress at the commencement of the war, and after that in the Senate, the Council, or House of Representatives. He died of old age, May 24, 1807. His wife died but a few days previous. They lie buried near the eastern gate, on "Burying Hill." Mr. Greenleaf was a well-built man, but of rather small size. He had a high forehead, a large aquiline nose, full dark hazel eyes, and rather prominent front teeth, which he retained to the last. His early advantages for education were limited, but he was a man of considerable reading, and had a large share of good common sense, joined with a good knowledge of human nature; and in addition to this, he possessed a remarkably kind and conciliating disposition. Even the tones of his voice were gentle and persuasive, and he was very frequently resorted to as a peacemaker between contending parties; and although he was not much of a speaker in public, yet he almost uniformly carried the point he had espoused. His dress was remarkably uniform—the entire suit being always of one color; usually in his later years being deep blue, or drab. He generally wore shoes, with oval silver buckles, a full white wig, after the fashion of his day, and a cocked hat. He walked very upright to the last; his gait being a measured and moderate step. He seldom walked fast. His manners were plain, unassuming, but very polite. He was a religious man from early life—becoming a member of the Church about the time of his marriage in 1744 ; and he continued to maintain an exemplary Christian character to the close of his life in 1807. For many years he was an elder in the First Presbyterian Church in Newburyport. In doctrine he was a strict Calvinist, and in practice a consistent Christian. Nothing but absolute necessity kept him from public worship on the Sabbath, and he was scarce ever known to omit regular morning and evening family worship.

NOTE 83.—Simon Greenleaf was the son of Jonathan Greenleaf of Newburyport, and the eldest of the family who lived to manhood. He was born in 1752. In very early life he was greatly afflicted with rheumatism ; insomuch that he became somewhat deformed in body, being hunch-backed. He is said to have been a young man of some genius and wit ; having a handsome face, and agreeable manners. He was extravagantly fond of dress, in which he greatly indulged, probably to conceal his personal defects, and was rather a gay young man. When about twenty-one years of age he married Hannah Osgood, of Andover, Mass. He had learned the trade of a goldsmith, but was never able to engage in much active business, and soon declined—dying of consumption in 1776, at the age of twenty-four years. His widow afterwards married Captain John Lee, of Andover. Mr. Greenleaf left one son, named Jonathan, after his father, born about 1775. He was never married, and died suddenly in the year 1798, of yellow fever, on board of the U. S. Frigate Essex, where he was a midshipman. The family name is extinct in this branch.

NOTE 84.—Jonathan Greenleaf, of Newburyport, had two daughters who married, viz. : Sarah, born in 1753, and died of old age in 1839. She married Captain William P. Johnson, and resided in Newburyport. Dr. Jonathan G. Johnson, and Eleazer Johnson, Esq., twin brothers, now of Newburyport, are her youngest children. Her sister was Catherine, born in 1759, and died of paralysis in 1838. She married Mr. Anthony Davenport of Newburyport, as his third wife.

NOTE 85.—Moses Greenleaf was the second son of Jonathan Greenleaf of Newburyport, who lived to manhood. He was born May 19, 1755. He was bred a ship-carpenter, but at the age of nineteen entered the American army as a lieutenant. In 1776 he was commissioned as a captain, and served until nearly the close of the war. In 1781 he commenced the business of shipbuilding in Newburyport, in connection with his father; and from that time till the year 1790, they built twenty-two sail of ships and brigs. Their ship-yard was a little south of the lower "Long Wharf," about where "Johnson's Wharf" is now built, and directly opposite the house now (1854) occupied by George Greenleaf, which was the dwelling-house of Hon. Jonathan Greenleaf. Moses Greenleaf, and his younger brother Enoch, both occupied the large old house "up the yard." In November, 1790, Moses Greenleaf removed with his family to the town of New Gloucester, in the State of Maine, where he followed farming until his death, which took place from a cancer in his face, Dec. 18, 1812, at the age of fifty-seven years and seven months.

In August, 1776, Captain Greenleaf married Lydia Parsons, the daughter of Rev. Jonathan Parsons of Newburyport, and had five children. (See Chart XXV.) Mrs. Greenleaf survived her husband more than twenty years, dying suddenly of cramp in the stomach, March 21, 1834, at the age of 79. She was buried in Williamsburg, Me., where she then resided, with her eldest son.

Captain Greenleaf was a well-proportioned man, about five feet eleven inches in height, fair complexion, high forehead, dark hazel eyes, and a nose somewhat aquiline. His hair was very dark, nearly black, which he wore queued, with the earlocks and foretop braided, turned back, and tied in with the queue. Becoming a military man in early life, he acquired a military air, which he maintained through life, walking very erect, with a firm step. Mrs. Greenleaf, his wife, was a small woman, below the middle size, of dark complexion, piercing black eyes, and a prominent chin. She was remarkably quick in her movements, walking very upright to the last, with a rapid and elastic step. She had a remarkably self-denying and benevolent spirit.

Note 86.—Moses Greenleaf, Jun., was the eldest child of Capt. Moses, and was born in Newburyport, Oct. 17th, 1777. At the age of 13, his father removed to New Gloucester, in the State of Maine, where he was brought up. Although he had no special advantages for education, he was a very thorough English scholar, and particularly as a mathematician, in which he was excelled by few.

In his early life he was engaged in trade, first at New Gloucester, and then at Bangor. He afterwards entered into some land speculations, and finally settled himself on a farm in Williamsburgh, Me., in the then county of Penobscot, now Piscataquis, where he was one of the first settlers. He was engaged for many years in the work of land surveying, during which time he constructed and published a map of Maine, with a "Statistical View" of about 150 pages, 8vo. In 1829, he published a new map, on a scale much enlarged and improved, accompanied by a "Survey of Maine," in an octavo volume of nearly 500 pages, and an Atlas exhibiting various features of the State, titles of land, &c. For many years he was one of the principal acting magistrates in the county where he lived, and for several years was an associate Justice of the Court of Sessions. On Feb. 11th, 1805, he married Persis Poor, of Andover, Me., the daughter of Dea. Ebenezer Poor, by whom he had four children. (See Chart XXV.) He died in Williamsburgh, March 20th, 1834, of erysipelas, aged 56 years. His wife survived him for 17 years, dying Jan. 18th, 1851, at the age of 75.

In person Mr. Greenleaf was about five feet ten inches high, of a very open, fair countenance, rather large features, high cheek-bones, brown hair, and dark hazel eyes. He stooped a little when walking, and from the effect of a fever in early life, was at times a little lame in one leg, and generally walked with a cane. Being of a speculative turn of mind, in early life he was rather sceptical in religion, but he became a serious man many years before his death, regularly maintained family prayer, and was in communion with the Episcopal Church.

Of the four children of Moses Greenleaf, Jun., the eldest, Ebenezer P., married Mary Abigail Lee, the daughter of Col. Joseph Lee, of Milo, Me., and had five children. (See Chart XXV.) He resided first in Williamsburgh, and then in Milo, where his wife died in 1847. He afterwards removed to Illinois, and died suddenly at Alton, July 14th, 1853.

The second child of Moses, Jun., was Clara Parsons. She married Rev. William C. Greenleaf, a distant relative, (see Note 15,) who died in 1851, and she is living a widow. The third child of Moses, Jun., was Lydia Griswold. She married Samuel John Wilder, and had one child, John Arthur. She is now a widow. The youngest child of Moses, Jun., was Moses. He married Martha Laurens Lee, of Milo. They have no children. He and his sisters reside in Illinois.

NOTE 87.—Clarina Parsons Greenleaf was the only daughter of Capt. Moses. She was born in Newburyport, Nov. 12th, 1779, and married Elezer Alley Jenks of Portland, Nov. 26, 1801. He was a printer, editing and publishing the "Gazette of Maine," at Portland, for several years. They had three children: one has deceased; one daughter, Elizabeth A. Jenks, is living unmarried at Brownville, Me.; and one son, E. A. Jenks, Esq., is also living at Brownville. Mr. Jenks was drowned, in company with 16 others, by the wrecking of a packet on Richmond's Island, near Portland harbor, on July 12th, 1807: Mrs. Jenks lived a widow more than 30 years, dying of a fever at the house of her youngest son in Brownville, Dec. 13th, 1841, at the age of 62 years. In person Mrs. Jenks was tall and slim: she was of very light complexion, with light hair, and light eyes. She was a woman of much reading, had a well-cultivated mind, excelled as a letter-writer, and had a good poetical talent. She became interested in religion in the winter preceding the death of her husband, and united with the Congregational church in New Gloucester in the following year.

NOTE 88.—Ebenezer Greenleaf was the second son of Capt. Moses, and was born in Newburyport, Nov. 23d, 1781, and brought up in New Gloucester. At the age of 19 he commenced going to sea, which he followed for his principal business for about seven years, passing through the several grades, until for some years he was master, and commanded one of the packet-ships from Portland to Liverpool. After leaving the sea he resided at Andover, Me., then at New Gloucester, and then removed to Williamsburgh, Me., where he continued to reside till his death, employed as a farmer and land surveyor. He died of the dropsy, Nov. 29th, 1851, at the age of 70. In Sept. 1808, he married Hannah Dennison Haskell, of New Gloucester, by whom he had 8 children. (See Chart XXVI.) Mrs. Greenleaf died at Williamsburgh, April 1st, 1839, at the age of 55, and in Jan. 1846, Capt. Greenleaf was married to Mrs. Elizabeth Morrill, who survives him. Capt. Greenleaf was a stout-built man, about five feet eleven inches in height, of a light complexion, light gray eyes, and light brown hair. He generally walked very quick and upright. He was considered a very good navigator, a skilful shipmaster, and was a man of much personal daring. His eight children were Elezer Alley, who married Susan P. Greely. He is an Episcopal minister, and now resides in Minnesota. He has no children. Persis Poor, who married Adam H. Merrill, and resides in Williamsburgh, Me. Marshfield Parsons, who married Lydia Haskell of Danville, Me. He resides in Williamsburgh, and has no children. Hannah Dennison, who married Albert Harris, of Brunswick, Me. She died in Oct. 1840, and Mr. Harris married Elizabeth Jenks, another daughter of Ebenezer, as his 2d wife, and removed to Minnesota, where she died in April, 1853. Frederick William was the third son of Ebenezer. He married Caroline W. Otis, of Boston, resided in Worcester, and died in July, 1850, leaving one son, Edward Hale, born in 1843. Simon, the youngest son of Ebenezer, married Frances Jane Foss, and they have three children. They reside in Minnesota. Phebe Griswold, the youngest child of Ebenezer, married Edwin Williard, and resides in Brownville, Me.

NOTE 89.—Simon Greenleaf was the third son of Capt. Moses, and was born in Newburyport, Dec. 5th, 1783. He received an academic education at the "Latin School" in Newburyport, under the tuition of Mr. Michael Walsh; studied law with Ezekiel Whitman, Esq, then of New Gloucester, but afterwards of Portland, and Chief Justice of Maine. He was admitted to the Bar in Cumberland county, Me., in 1805, opened an office first in Standish, then in Grey, and then in Portland. For several years he was reporter of decisions of the Supreme Court of Maine. In 1833, he was appointed Professor of Law at Harvard College, which office he resigned after about 15 years of service, retiring into private life. He resided in Cambridge, Mass., where he died very suddenly, on Oct. 6th, 1853, aged 70. In August, 1806, Mr. Greenleaf married Hannah Kingman, of Bridgewater, Mass. They had fifteen children, eleven of whom died in infancy. For the other four, see Chart XXVI. Mr. Greenleaf was a grave, sedate-looking man, and very quiet in his movements. He was about five feet ten inches in height, rather stout-built, full face, with a small sharp eye, nearly black. His original hair was very dark brown.

The religion of Mr. Greenleaf was somewhat peculiar, partaking very largely of the character of his mind. He began to think seriously on this subject about the year 1808, while he resided in Grey, although he made no public profession by uniting with any church, until after his removal to Portland, in 1818. He was very slow in admitting the peculiarities of what, for distinction's sake, we term the orthodox faith, examining the ground inch by inch, with as much care as he would the merits of an important law case committed to his management ; and when this was done, and he had honestly adopted that faith as his own, which he did, he held it to his dying-day with a tenacity strong as life itself. Yet religion was not with him a dry system of doctrines, but a living and active principle of love to God and love to man. For the last thirty years of his life he was one of the most spiritually-minded men, evidently intent on walking humbly with God, and doing good to the bodies and souls of his fellow-men ; scarce ever writing a letter of friendship even, without breathing in it a prayer, or delivering some gospel message. Thus he moved quietly on, as years increased upon him, with the evidence of his piety becoming brighter and brighter, especially to those who saw him in private life, until, the light becoming too bright to shine any longer on earth, it was suddenly removed to heaven, where its splendor could for ever increase.

The following sketch of Mr. Greenleaf is copied from the "Cambridge Chronicle" of October 8th, 1853, which published his death, and is believed to present some points in his character in a very true light.

"As an instructor he was greatly beloved, and his lectures and teachings were clear, distinct, and practical. As a counsellor he was clear, safe, and practical. His advice was always characterized by a weight of common sense as well as legal skill, which was sufficient to secure confidence while it gave direction. As a man, he possessed a weight of character which insured for him the esteem of all who enjoyed his society, or came within the circle of his influence. Affable, polite, courteous, frank, and liberal-minded, he secured the confidence of his fellow-citizens and neighbors, who will sincerely mourn his loss as that of a good man.

“Combined with varied and learned attainments, he possessed great simplicity of character, which seemed to set off, as if in bold relief, those characteristics for which he was so truly distinguished. To all other attainments were added those of a mind eminently benevolent and devout ; and, while scrupulously exact in all his relations with his fellow-men, he was not unmindful of his relations to God. His benevolence was of an active kind, and he took a lively interest in many of the benevolent institutions and associations of the day. Devoted as he was to the duties of his profession, he felt a yet deeper interest in the moral wants of humanity, and his name will long be identified with many noble plans for the improvement and benefit of the race.

“That Professor Greenleaf was an industrious man, his many labors, his faithful discharge of his professional duties, as well as numerous works written and edited by him, will testify. The following are some of the works which have proceeded from his pen :

NOTE 91.—Enoch Greenleaf was the third son of Hon. Jonathan, of Newburyport, and was born there, Oct. 11, 1757. He resided in Newburyport, where he kept a store. He was twice married, 1st, to Mary Stone, who lived but a few years, and 2d, to Dorothy Ingersoll, who outlived him by nearly twenty years. He was somewhat of a military man, and commanded a company of artillery for several years. He died of consumption, January 9, 1798, aged 40. By his second marriage he had four children. (See Chart XXVII.) In his face, Captain Greenleaf somewhat resembled his father, but was several inches taller. He had light auburn hair, which, after the fashion of that day, he wore clubbed, and dressed with powder.

Of the four children of Enoch Greenleaf, George married Elizabeth Cogswell Wheelwright, the daughter of Captain Abraham Wheelwright, of Newburyport. She died in May, 1844, and he married Mrs. — Huse. Dolly married Henry S. Pearson, of Portland, where she died, Dec. 12, 1841. Enoch died in infancy; and Caroline married Jonathan Call, of Charlestown, Mass., where she died in 1831. George Greenleaf, the son of Enoch by his first marriage, had eight children, viz.: Mary Ann, born Sept. 29, 1814 ; died Dec. 30, 1844 ; George, born Aug. 31, 1816 ; died at sea, March 11, 1840 ; Elizabeth W., born Aug. 26, 1818 ; died Sept. 1819 ; Abraham W., born Dec. 6, 1820 ; died April 20, 1842 ; Caroline E., born February 8, 1823 ; Laura W., born Oct. 31, 1825 ; died July, 1853 ; Rebecca K., born Nov. 4, 1827 ; died Aug. 7, 1830 ; Rebecca W., born Nov. 14, 1832.

NOTE 92.—Richard Greenleaf was the youngest son of Hon. Jonathan, of Newburyport, and was born there, July 3, 1762. He followed the sea for several years, and retained through life somewhat of the gait and air of a sailor. His speech and manner were rapid and vivacious ; he was naturally witty, a man of fine genius and taste, a great lover of fun, very social, and the life of company where he went. He had a good taste for painting, and there is still in the family a very striking likeness of his mother, from his hand. In person, he was about five feet ten inches in height, had a high forehead, and hair nearly black, which he wore queued. He married Marcia Tappan, the daughter of Caleb Tappan, of Hampton. They had three children. Mr. Greenleaf died of consumption, Feb. 11, 1796. His wife survived him for more than thirty years, dying in Brunswick, Me., May 23, 1832, at the age of 68.

Of the three children of Richard, Richard, Jr., born in Newbury, Mass., July 11, 1787 ; married Sophia Leavitt, of Hampton, N. H., where he resided for several years. For many years past he has resided in Brunswick, Me. He is an acting magistrate, and much engaged in public business in the town and county. Mary, born June 27, 1789 ; married Richard T. Dunlap, of Brunswick, Me., where she died, July 9, 1834 ; William, born June 11, 1792 ; died in infancy.

Richard Greenleaf, Jr., had five children, viz. : Marcia, born in Hampton, N. H., Feb. 25, 1822 ; married Capt. Richard Merryman, and resides in Brunswick, Me. ; Jonathan Leavitt, born in Hampton, N. H., Jan. 30, 1825; died Nov. 7, 1842; Charles W., born in Hampton, Nov. 18, 1828; John O'Brien, born in Brunswick, March 2, 1832; Mary, born in Brunswick, Nov. 27, 1837. (See Chart XXVII.)

NOTE 93.—Hon. Benjamin Greenleaf was the youngest child of John Greenleaf, 3d, who was the second son of John, Sen. He was born in March, 1732; was graduated at Harvard College in 1751, and for many years was Judge of Probate in Essex county, Mass. He resided at Newburyport, where he died suddenly of disease of the heart, on Jan. 11, 1797. He was twice married: 1st, to Elizabeth Chauncey, a daughter of Dr. Chauncey, by whom he had one son and five daughters. Judge Greenleaf was married a second time to Mrs. Derby, a widow lady, who had been married twice before. She survived him for many years.

John Greenleaf of Newburyport, was the only son of Judge Benjamin Greenleaf, and is generally distinguished at Newburyport as "Colonel John." He was born not far from 1760, and died about 1830. He was twice married: 1st, to Elizabeth Coates, only child of Captain Coates, of Newburyport. She lived but little over a year, leaving an infant daughter, Mehitable Coates, born March 20, 1790. This child lived but a few months after its mother. After this Colonel Greenleaf married as a second wife, the widow of Capt. Thomas Greenleaf, a distant relative of his own. She was a very sensible woman, and much respected. By this marriage, Col. Greenleaf had one son, John, born June 22, 1795. He is now (1854) living in Topsham, Me. This son married Fraisielte Cutler Lane, the daughter of Capt. Francis Lane, of Newburyport, Jan. 19, 1825, and has had five children. (See Chart No. XXVIII.) His eldest son, Charles Chauncey Greenleaf, was married Sept. 31, 1849, to Clara Robie, of Chester, N. H.

Judge Benjamin Greenleaf had five daughters, viz.: Elizabeth, named after her mother, born about 1761. She married

Chief Justice Parsons, of Mass. Sarah, born June 21, 1763. Mary and Hannah, twins, born Nov. 1, 1765; Hannah married Mr. Robert Boyd of Portland, Me. Mary was never married. Jane, born July 23d, 1768, who married Mr. Ralph Cross, of Portland, Me.

NOTE 94.—Timothy Greenleaf, the second son of John, Jr., and brother of Joshua, Sen., (see Chart XXXI., and Note 17,) was born 1719. He resided in Newburyport, where he died in 1764. He married Susanna Greenleaf, the daughter of Benjamin Greenleaf, a distant relative, and had nine children. His widow survived him for about four years. The two eldest children of Timothy Greenleaf were daughters, viz.: Anne, who married Woodbridge Hunt, and Sarah, who married Capt. Offin Boardman.

The eldest son of Timothy bore the name of his father. He married Joanna ———, of Ipswich, and had one son, who also bore the name of Timothy. This Timothy, 3d, married in Newburyport, where he resided for a few years, and then removed to Claremont, N. H. About the year 1808, he removed to Salem, where he kept a boarding-house: but becoming somewhat reduced in property, he entered as steward on board of a privateer, during the war of 1812, and was taken prisoner and carried to England. After his return, he died in Portsmouth, N. H., in 1823. His widow is still living, at an advanced age, with her daughter, the wife of Mr. Oliver Bailey, of Manchester, N. H. Timothy Greenleaf, 3d, had three sons, perhaps more. John and Samuel died young. William O. was born in Claremont, N. H., and died in New York, May 30, 1829. He left two daughters: Mary Eliza, born July 10, 1825; married to Jesse B. Edwards, of Salem, Mass.; and Sarah Howe, born April 11, 1827. His widow now keeps a boarding-house in Salem, Mass.

Caleb Greenleaf was the youngest child of Timothy, Sen., the son of John, Jun. He was but five years of age at the death of his father, and but nine at the death of his mother. For several years after this he lived with his oldest sister, who was the wife of Woodbridge Hunt. Mr. Hunt was his guardian. He learned the trade of a saddler, but did not follow it, and lived on a farm in Haverhill, Mass. In 1785, when at the age of 24, he married Susanna Emerson, the youngest daughter of William Emerson, of Methuen. He had seven children. (See Chart XXXII.) He died at the age of 77, Jan. 28, 1836. Mr. Greenleaf was a well-built man, but rather below the common size. He was a man of much reading and well versed in history. He wrote a handsome hand, was Parish Clerk for a great number of years, and was employed to a considerable extent in drafting wills, deeds, &c. He was a very moral man all his days, but did not make a public profession of religion until late in life.

Caleb Greenleaf had five children who lived to maturity. The eldest was Benjamin, born Sept. 25, 1786, graduated at Dartmouth College in 1813—married Lucretia Kimball, daughter of Col. James Kimball, of Bradford, Mass., Nov. 20, 1821—has always resided in Bradford, having for many years had charge of the Academy in that place. He is the author of "Greenleaf's Arithmetic," and some other similar works. Samuel E. Greenleaf, the second son of Caleb, was born May 7, 1788. He married Sarah Hale, of Haverhill, Mass., and had six children, the eldest of whom was Moses Poor, born about 1812, married Susan Allen, and had a son, Benjamin, born about 1847. Moses P. Greenleaf was a physician, and settled in West Newton, Mass., where he died, much lamented, June 23, 1848. Mary, a daughter of Samuel E. Greenleaf, married George Marston, of Lowell, Mass.

Anne, a daughter of Caleb Greenleaf, married John Crondell of Haverhill, Mass., and Susanna, another daughter, married Jennes Hawkins.

Wm. Greenleaf, the youngest son of Caleb who lived to maturity, was born Dec. 7, 1795. He married Eliza Gordon, of Salem, Mass., and has two children, Lucretia Kimball and Benjamin William.

Benjamin Greenleaf, of Bradford, has had nine children, the eldest born Sept. 13, 1822, and the youngest, May 15, 1836; six of whom died in infancy, leaving three daughters, viz.: Emily Ann, the eldest child; Lydia Kimball, the youngest; and Betsey Payson, born April 6, 1828.

NOTE 95.—Enoch Greenleaf, of the city of York, England, was a silk-dyer in the reign of Charles I. He was a lieutenant under Oliver Cromwell, and served also under Richard Cromwell, and was in the army of the Protector under General Monk, at the time of the restoration of Charles II. It does not appear that he ever came to America. Neither is it certainly known whether he was related to Edmund Greenleaf of Newbury. One fact would lead us to suppose that he was: he had a daughter named Rooksby, and the same singular name appears in the family of Edmund Greenleaf. (See Chart III. and Note 25.) Perhaps he was a younger brother to Edmund.

NOTE 96.—Enoch Greenleaf, Jun., the son of Enoch, of York, came to America about the year 1670, and settled himself in Malden, near Boston. He married Bethiah Woodman, of Boston, on Oct. 20, 1675, and had two children, both of whom died in infancy. His wife died not long after the birth of her second child, and on August 29, 1679, he married Catherine Truesdale, who died in Cambridge, in August, 1712, at the age of 59. By this marriage he had eight children, six of whom died in infancy. Two sons were left: of the eldest, Joseph, nothing is known: of the youngest child, William, see next note.

NOTE 97.—William Greenleaf, the youngest child of Enoch, Jun., was bred a hatter in Boston, where he continued to reside. On June 10, 1714, he married Mary Shattuck, and had eleven children. Mrs. Greenleaf died August 18, 1732, and in ~~March~~ of the following year, he married Ruth Ruggles, and had three children. Of his fourteen children, two by the first marriage, and two by the second, are known to have died in infancy. One daughter, Mary, born in 1722, married a Col. Leverett of Windsor, Vt. A son, Enoch, married a Miss Gridley, but left no children. William, the eldest son, born in 1716, lived to be more than 40 years of age, but nothing more is known of him. Neither is any thing known of five daughters, viz: Catherine, Susanna, Abigail, Elizabeth, and Hannah. Of Joseph, see the two following notes, and of Oliver, see note 99.

NOTE 98.—Joseph Greenleaf, the son of William, was born Nov. 10, 1720, and died in Malden, in 1810, aged 90. On Oct. 17th, 1749, he married Abigail Payne, the daughter of Rev. Thomas Payne, of Weymouth, Mass., and who afterwards became a merchant in Boston. The wife of Mr. Payne was Eunice Treat, the daughter of Rev. Samuel Treat, of Cape Cod. He was the son of Gov. Treat, of Connecticut. This Samuel Treat married Abigail Williard, the daughter of Rev. Mr. Williard, of Groton, Mass., and afterwards pastor of the Old South Church in Boston.

Hon. Robert Treat Payne, a Judge of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, was the only son of Rev. Thomas Payne, and brother to the wife of Joseph Greenleaf. The mother of the Rev. Thomas Payne was the daughter of a Mr. Thatcher, from whose sister Judith, "Point Judith," a noted point on the south coast of Rhode Island, takes its name. The tradition is, that in former times she with her father were on board a small vessel which got aground on that point, and came near being wrecked. She rendered great service, and the vessel was saved; and in remembrance of this the crew called the point after her name.

Joseph Greenleaf of Malden, who married Abigail Payne, had seven children, viz: Abigail, born 1750, and died young. Joseph, born 1754, and died 1772, aged 18. Abigail, born Feb. 28, 1753, married Rev. Ezra Weld, of Braintree, Mass., and left two sons, Joseph Greenleaf, and Thomas. Thomas Greenleaf, born 1755. (See Note 100.) Mary, born 1757, died 1804, married Nathaniel Hewins, left no children. Catherine, born June 11, 1760, married Dr. Joseph Rhodes, and left two sons and three daughters; and Eunice Payne, born August 7, 1762, married William Prentiss, July 15, 1790, had one son born in Washington, D.C., in 1796, and died in New York, in 1803.

NOTE 99.—Oliver Greenleaf, the youngest son of William, and half-brother to Joseph, of Malden, was born about 1737. He married Dorcas Welch, and had five children, viz: George, Oliver Cromwell, Joseph, Ruth and Dorcas. George, the eldest, died Feb. 7, 1818. Joseph died in 1816. Oliver Cromwell kept a book-store in Washington street, Boston, for several years. He died ~~about the year 1805~~. Dec 16. 1843 a 66

NOTE 100.—Thomas Greenleaf, the son of Joseph, of Malden, was bred a printer. He resided in the city of New York, where he died of the yellow fever, in 1798, at the age of 43. He married Mary Quackenbos, and had four children, viz: Joseph, born August 13, 1792; Catherine, born Oct. 19, 1794; Abigail, born April 4, 1796; Anna, born June 17, 1798.

NOTE 101.—Joseph Greenleaf, the son of Thomas, (see last note,) resides in the city of New York. He married Emeline Matilda Riley, who died June 2, 1846. He had six children. (See Chart XXXIX.) His son Thomas married Eleanor Leal, of Delhi, Delaware county, N. Y., on Nov. 22, 1849, and has had two children: a daughter, born March 21, 1851, and died in infancy, and Catharine Nash, born July 21, 1852. Anna, the daughter of Joseph Greenleaf, married George W. Thorp, on Jan. 5, 1853.

Nore 102.—The tradition in the family of Robert Greenleaf is, that he came into New York as cabin-boy of a vessel, about the year 1750, being then not over 10 or 12 years of age. It is not now known whether he was from England direct, or from some Eastern State. He left the vessel and went into New Jersey, in the vicinity of Hackensack, where he lived for several years with a farmer, and at length married Elizabeth Earl, of Secaugus, N. J., and had eight children. He died about the year 1812, and most of the families descending from him reside at New Durham, and other parts of Hudson county, and some few at South Amboy. NOTE.

Family Coat of Arms.

THE question may arise in the minds of some, whether there are or are not any armorial bearings belonging to the Greenleaf family. This subject has not been investigated very minutely, as the writer feels but little interest in it, believing, as he does, that these devices are very often manufactured "to order" by dealers in Heraldry, merely perhaps to secure the job of cutting a seal, or painting a picture; and even if the thing were real, and the honors of knighthood had been granted to some remote ancestor, we plain republicans might about as well throw it off. It should also be recollected that the Greenleaf family do not trace their pedigree up to the Norman Conquest, nor yet to the time of the Crusades, as do very many families of English origin; but their descent is undoubtedly to be traced from the Huguenots who when persecuted for their religion fled from France, somewhere from the middle to the close of the sixteenth century. The name of Greenleaf was found in England in 1590, at which time a case is reported between Thomas Greenleaf and Joseph Barker, as having been tried at Canterbury. See Coke's Elizabeth, of her 32d year, page 193. In the index the name is spelt "Greenlife."

The only book of Heraldry known to contain the name of Greenleaf (spelt with an e final) is "Robson's British Herald," where it is stated that the arms are the same with those of the family of Greenland, and are thus emblazoned: "He beareth argent, three saltiers, vert; crest, a dexter arm, couped, and embowed, holding a bomb, fired, proper." The name Greenlees or Greenly has also been referred to by Heraldry, as being originally the same, and the device is that of a Fleur de lis, vert, between three mullets. The Hon. William Greenleaf, once of Boston, and then of New Bedford, being in London about the year 1760, obtained from an office of Heraldry a device said to be the arms of the family, which he had painted, and the painting is now in the possession of his granddaughter, Mrs. Ritchie, of Roxbury, Mass. The field is white, (argent,) bearing a chevron between three leaves, (vert.) The crest is a dove standing on a wreath of green and white, holding in its mouth three green leaves. The helmet is that of a warrior, (visor down;) a garter below, but no motto. This, or something like it, has been adopted by several branches of the family.

CORRECTION.

In the Note on page 60, it is stated that Abner Greenleaf, the son of Abner of Portsmouth, has one daughter, &c. The paragraph respecting his family should read thus :

Abner Greenleaf married Mary Louisa Brown, the daughter of Hon. Daniel P. Brown, of Portsmouth, N. H., Jan. 8, 1837, and they have four children, viz :

Idalia, born Jan. 31, 1838.

Lavinia, born Jan. 5, 1843.

Howard, born March 14, 1846.

Carrie Louisa, born Feb. 2, 1851.

The two elder of these were born in Portsmouth, and the two younger in Brooklyn.
